“Love thy neighbor as thyself.”

Join The Board of Directors

Single women with low—no needs, other than a remedy to their housing insecurity are experiencing “hidden homelessness.” Are you interested?

Are you looking for a unique leadership opportunity or seeking to use your talents to make a major impact towards a significant cause?

Single women, well before the devastating exasperated impact of Covid:19— whom over the course of their lifetime, have maintained a steady and diligent work history, but find themselves losing their jobs and financial lifeline to workplace issues such as prolonged temporary and contract work cycles, ageism and/or other discriminatory practices. These practices are a direct line from unemployment to “hidden homelessness” for this otherwise intelligent, educated, and industrious group of women.

If you are interested—we too are interested in you!

One Commandment’s Board of Directors is looking for leaders like you. We are a young, but growing nonprofit— while still in our infancy; it’s the volunteer board that will serve as the strategic heart of our organization, ensuring that through our services to the growing population of single women with low-needs —experiencing “hidden-homelessness”, we deliver real results, and respond to their the needs. Because we see them—they are our neighbors in community and humanity. We vow to always provide a high level of service while preserving the dignity and respect of the individuals we serve.

Areas of Expertise We Are Looking For

We are looking for folks with expertise in:

- * Accounting
